The Commission's archivist will undertake this project (see below).

VIII. Archives and Collections (Emily Gonzalez)

- Survey Files Digitization Project: Charlie and I met with Peter Stott from the Massachusetts Historical Commission and Barbara Kurze, consultant for the Cambridge Historical Commission, to discuss tips and strategies for our survey file digitization project. In May I joined an active document management working group with various members of other City departments. The hope is that this group will lead to an electronic recordkeeping system that could help inform our survey digitization project.
- Open Archives: The marketing for the 2016 Cambridge Open Archives event (June 13-15, June 20-22) is nearly complete – the ticket link is available online and the official poster will be distributed soon.
- Policies: I completed drafts of both the updated deed of gift form and a collections policy for the CHC, and will be meeting with everyone to review these after the Preservation Awards.
- Collections: We have received several new collections donations and have also successfully donated some smaller items, not within our collecting policy, to the Cambridge Room. I have continued to sort and inventory boxes of books and other unidentified collections in order to make more office space and identify potential intern projects.
- Internships: Advanced Simmons interns Darren Young and Dan Axmacher substantially advanced processing the Frederick Rindge Papers and the Lois M. Bowen photography collection. Both of these collections are fully open to researchers and finding aids have been posted online.
